TOOLS TO HELP TO STAY CLEAN, CLEAR & BALANCED

By Aitreyia

There have been many challenges that we all have been through over the past few years. Most of these experiences brought us to greater clarity, awareness and were meant to help us to become more centered within who we are. Maintaining this is and will be important over the next decade as we continue on our spiritual journey.

So how do we stay centered in who we are with all the commotion circling around us in our everyday lives? From the dramas of others to our own experiences, the energy can be quite challenging, often throwing us out of balance and making it difficult to stay true to ourselves.

Here are a few things to set as a priority;

- Get to know yourself and when you are thinking or acting in a way that's not you, stop the behavior
- Take "ME" time. This not only gives you a moment to breathe, but will help you stay clear & balanced. Take time to cleanse, walk in nature, read uplifting books and meditate
- Gather tools to help you support who you are. Tools can be anything from counseling, yoga, tai chi, setting rituals or routines and the more physical items like; candles, music, crystal, oils, smudging, etc.

PALO SANTO! OIL, WOOD OR INCENSE

Spanish for "holy wood", Palo Santo is a sacred tree which grows in select parts of South America. It has been used for centuries by shamans in ritual prayer, ceremonies and healing.

Is Palo Santo better than sage?

Energetic Clearing

Let's get to the real reason why sage and Palo Santo are so widely used: their clearing and cleansing benefits of negative energy. Sage is said to clear ALL energy, the good and the bad.... Palo Santo on the other hand, is said to cleanse negative energy and bring in the good.

GEM SHOW FIELD TRIP SUCCESS

The Gem Show was simply amazing this year! With some of my crystal suppliers either moved to a new location or decided not to come, my journey around the show took me to new locations & new finds. One of my favorite people for Fluorite, Frank, expanded to a new location where I met new people with extraordinary crystals from Mongolia; Inner Green & Angel Dream Mongolian Quartz, a new amazing Selenite dealer, Soufyane, (lol, whose uncle said he'd marry me) and Frank had the beautiful dyed onyx hearts!

We had so many people signed up for the field that we divided into 2 different days and of course, we had a blast. One of our regular Amethyst people from Uruguay had a lot to say about the different colors of Amethyst, like the color of the newest find of Red Amethyst actually is because underneath the crystals is a layer of "red Jasper!" Another interesting piece of information was about Citrine. How do you know if it is heat-treated? One of my reputable dealers said that most often it has to be tested in a lab to be sure. So the class benefited from both special pricing as well as new knowledge about the different crystals.
